

REMARKS: This is an initial textual proposal for a draft Chapter on Regulatory Cooperation that the Commission intends to submit to the US on Friday, 30 January, in preparation of the 8th round of TTIP negotiations.

Initial Provisions for

CHAPTER [ ] - Regulatory Cooperation

General notes:

1. As TTIP negotiations progress, the provisions in this Chapter may be reviewed in the light of developments in other Chapters, and vice versa, with a view to resolving possible duplications, overlaps or inconsistencies. In particular, there is a need to consider the relationship with the TBT and SPS chapters as well as with sectoral provisions, including those on Financial Services. Sectoral provisions are intended to respond to the specific needs of a sector. It will be important to strive as far as possible for coherence and consistency between the approaches and solutions embodied in the sectoral provisions, on the one hand, and those in other parts of TTIP (including this Chapter), on the other hand. In case of overlap or doubt, the sectoral provisions shall prevail, and it cannot be ruled out that in some instances such sectoral provisions might have a comprehensive character.

2. Given that the provisions of this Chapter concern predominantly procedures for cooperation, they may not lend themselves to the application of dispute settlement rules. Alternative mechanisms for ensuring proper application could be explored, such as regular monitoring and reporting, including to the political level (Joint Ministerial Body). As regards the sectoral provisions of the TTIP regulatory cluster, further reflection will be required as regards the most appropriate mechanisms of ensuring proper application. In respect of cooperation on financial services, the EU has expressed the view that provisions should not be subject to dispute settlement.

3. This draft covers regulatory acts at "central" level, understood as EU-level and US Federal acts. The draft also includes placeholders for regulatory acts of US States and of the central national authorities of EU Member States. Cooperation on those other regulatory acts will need to be addressed further, in order to achieve the objective of enhancing regulatory cooperation and reliance on good regulatory practices.

4. "Party" or "the Parties" in this draft refers to the EU, on one side, and the US, on the other, consistent with the focus on regulatory acts at "central" level. In terms of the practical application of the provisions, particularly as regards the possibility to discuss regulatory acts at "non-central" level, each side will take any necessary steps, including as regards the determination of the specific actors who will implement the agreed rules.

5. The institutional and decision-making modalities in the horizontal chapter regarding the update, modification or addition of sectoral provisions will need to be discussed as negotiations on the regulatory cluster and the general institutional provisions of TTIP proceed.

- the importance of regulation to achieve public policy objectives, and their right to regulate and adopt measures to ensure that these objectives are protected at the level that each Party considers appropriate, in line with its respective principles;

Section I: Objectives, definitions and scope

Article 1 - General Objectives and Principles

1. The general objectives of this Chapter<sup>2</sup> are:
  - a) To reinforce regulatory cooperation thereby facilitating trade and investment in a way that supports the Parties' efforts to stimulate growth and jobs, while pursuing a high level of protection of inter alia: the environment; consumers; human, animal and plant life, health and safety; personal data; cybersecurity; cultural diversity; or preserving financial stability;
  - b) To reduce unnecessarily burdensome, duplicative or divergent regulatory requirements affecting trade or investment, particularly given their impact on small and medium sized enterprises, by promoting the compatibility of envisaged and existing EU and US regulatory acts;
  - c) To promote an effective, pro-competitive regulatory environment, which is transparent and predictable for citizens and economic operators;
  - d) To further the development, adoption and strengthening of international instruments, and their timely implementation and application, as a means to work together more effectively with each other and with third countries to strive toward consistent regulatory outcomes.
2. The provisions of this Chapter do not restrict the right of each Party to maintain, adopt and apply measures to achieve legitimate public policy objectives, such as those mentioned in paragraph 1, at the level of protection that it considers appropriate, in accordance with its regulatory framework and principles.

<sup>2</sup> NB: The provisions as set forth in this Chapter cannot be interpreted or applied as to oblige either Party to change its fundamental principles governing regulation in its jurisdiction, for example in the areas of risk assessment and risk management

3. The Parties reaffirm their shared commitment to good regulatory principles and practices, as laid down in the OECD Recommendation of 22 March 2012 on Regulatory Policy and Governance.

Article 2- Definitions

For the purposes of this Chapter the following definitions shall apply:

a) “regulatory acts at central level” means:

c) “international instruments”<sup>3</sup> means documents adopted by international bodies or fora in which both Parties' regulators and competent authorities at central level participate, including as observers, and which provide requirements or related procedures, recommendations or <sup>3</sup> NB: This definition captures documents produced by international bodies in which both the Commission and US federal government or one or more of its agencies participate, including for example bodies like the, UNECE, OECD, IMDRF or the ICH; but the definition excludes bodies such as IEC, ISO, the ESOs, or US private standardisation bodies. The TBT Chapter is expected to cover cooperation in the area of product standards, generally; sectoral provisions in TTIP may also cover cooperation on standards.

guidelines on the supply or use of a service, such as for example authorization, licensing, qualification or on characteristics or related production methods, presentation or use of a product.

Article 3 – Scope

1. The provisions of Section II apply to regulatory acts at central level which:
  - a) determine requirements or related procedures for the supply, or use of a service in the territory of a Party, such as for example authorization, licensing, or qualification; or
  - b) determine requirements or related procedures applying to goods marketed in the territory of a Party concerning their characteristics or related production methods, their presentation or their use; and
2. The provisions of Section III apply to regulatory acts at central level that fulfil the criteria in paragraph 1 and that have or are likely to have a significant impact<sup>4</sup> on trade or investment between the Parties.
3. Regulatory acts at central level concerning the matters covered by [specific or sectoral provisions concerning goods and services, to be identified] fall in any event within the scope of this Chapter.

[Scope may be revised in accordance with general note n°3]

Article 4 – Relationship with sectoral provisions

1. In case of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Chapter and the provisions laid down in [specific or sectoral provisions concerning goods and services, to be identified], the latter shall prevail.<sup>5</sup>
2. Regulatory cooperation in financial services shall follow specific provisions set out in [to be identified – FS chapter/section....].

Section II: Good Regulatory Practices

[Placeholder –measures or actions may be envisaged to facilitate the availability of information and the implementation of good regulatory practices with regard to regulatory acts at the level of the US States or the central national authorities of EU Member States]

<sup>4</sup> NB: The regulators and competent authorities at central level of each Party will identify regulatory acts that may have a significant impact on EU-US trade (see also Article 9 par. 1). Further discussion will be needed on how to identify these acts.

<sup>5</sup> NB: The relationship of specific and sectoral provisions in TTIP and the Horizontal Chapter will need to be kept under review as both sets of provisions are taking shape.

Sub-section II.1. Transparency

Article 5 – Early information on planned acts

1. Each Party shall make publicly available at least once a year a list of planned regulatory acts at central level<sup>6</sup>, providing information on their respective scope and objectives.<sup>7</sup>
2. For planned regulatory acts at central level undergoing impact assessment each Party shall make publicly available, as early as possible, information on planning and timing leading to their adoption, including on planned stakeholder consultations and potential for significant impacts on trade or investment.

Article 6– Stakeholder Consultations

1. When preparing regulatory acts at central level undergoing impact assessment, the regulating Party shall offer a reasonable opportunity for any interested natural or legal person, on a non-discriminatory basis, to provide input through a public consultation process, and shall take into account<sup>8</sup> the contributions received in the finalisation of their regulatory acts. The regulating Party should make use of electronic means of communication and seek to use dedicated single access webportals, where possible.
2. [Placeholder – a provision on the publication and entry into force of adopted regulatory acts may be envisaged in this Chapter, taking into account whether a horizontal provision is included elsewhere in the TTIP text]

Sub-section II.2 Regulatory Policy Instruments

Article 7- Analytical Tools

1. The Parties affirm their intention to carry out, in accordance with their respective rules and procedures, an impact assessment for planned regulatory acts at central level.

<sup>7</sup> NB: Parties can in practice comply with this provision by publishing a more comprehensive list of regulatory acts.

<sup>8</sup> NB: This is an obligation for regulators to examine comments on their merits, but not to take on board suggestions put forward by stakeholders. The language used ("take into account") is standard in international agreements dealing with regulatory matters and consultation: for instance, see Article 2.9.4 of the TBT Agreement.

2. Whenever carrying out impact assessments on regulatory acts at central level, the regulating Party shall, among other aspects,<sup>9</sup> assess how the options under consideration:
  - a) relate to relevant international instruments;
  - b) take account of the regulatory approaches of the other Party, when the other Party has adopted or is planning to adopt regulatory acts on the same matter;
  - c) impact on international trade or investment<sup>10</sup>.
3. With regard to regulatory acts at central level:
  - a) the findings of impact assessments shall be published no later than the proposed or final regulatory acts;
  - b) the Parties shall promote the exchange of information on available scientific and economic evidence and data as well as on the methodology and economic assumptions applied in regulatory policy analysis<sup>11</sup>;
  - c) the Parties shall promote the exchange of experience and share information on planned ex-post evaluations and retrospective reviews.

Section III: Regulatory Cooperation

[NB: See general note on the relationship of this Chapter with other TTIP Chapters]

Article 8 – Bilateral cooperation mechanism

1. The Parties hereby establish a bilateral mechanism to support regulatory cooperation between their regulators and competent authorities at central level to foster information exchange and to seek increased compatibility between their respective regulatory frameworks, where appropriate.
2. The mechanism would further aim at identifying priority areas for regulatory cooperation to be reflected in the Annual Regulatory Cooperation Programme referred to paragraph 2(a) of Article 13.

<sup>9</sup> NB: These would include, for instance, relevant consumer or environmental protection impacts that Parties may assess in line with their respective frameworks.

<sup>10</sup> NB: In this context, this will include EU-US trade and investment, which is understood to include the interests of investors of the other Party.

<sup>11</sup> NB: Any exchange of information needs to respect the rules to be agreed on the exchange of confidential information, see placeholder in Article 9, and needs to be consistent with each Party's legal framework as to information protected by intellectual property rights.

3. Each Party shall designate an office in its central administration to act as a Focal Point responsible for exchanging information about envisaged and existing regulatory acts at central level. Those exchanges include submissions concerning acts that are being prepared or reviewed by each Party's legislative authorities.<sup>12</sup>

[Placeholder for further details on the Focal Points.]

Article 9- Information and Regulatory Exchanges

1. When a Party publishes a list of planned regulatory acts referred to in Article 5.1<sup>13</sup>, it shall identify those acts that are likely to have a significant impact on international trade or investment, including trade or investment between the Parties, and it shall inform the other Party through their respective Focal Points.
2. A Party shall also regularly inform the other Party about proposed regulatory acts that are likely to have a significant impact on international trade or investment, including trade or investment between the Parties, where those proposed acts do not originate from the executive branch and were not included in the most recent list published pursuant to Article 5.1.
3. Upon the request of a Party made via the respective Focal Points, the Parties shall enter into an exchange on planned or existing regulatory acts at central level.
4. Regulatory exchanges shall be led by the regulators and competent authorities at central level responsible for the regulatory acts concerned.
5. The Parties shall participate constructively in regulatory exchanges. In addition to the information made available in accordance with Article 5 a Party shall provide to the other Party, if the other Party so requests, complementary available information related to the planned regulatory acts under discussion.

[Placeholder for Article on exchange of confidential information between regulators and competent authorities at central level]

6. The cooperation may take the form of meetings, written exchanges or any other appropriate means of direct communication. Each point of substance raised by one Party shall be addressed and answered by the other Party.
7. Each Party shall communicate without delay to its legislative authorities and via its Focal point specific written comments or statements received from the other Party concerning regulatory acts at central level which are being prepared or reviewed by those bodies.<sup>14</sup>

<sup>12</sup> NB: Legislative authorities would include on the EU side the Council of the EU and the European Parliament and on the US side the US Congress.

<sup>13</sup> NB: This obligation on the US side also covers US Federal Statutes.

<sup>14</sup> N.B.: Legislative bodies are under no obligation to include suggestions put forward by the other Party.

Article 10 – Timing of Regulatory Exchanges

1. When a regulatory exchange on a planned or existing regulatory act at central level is requested under Article 9 paragraph 3, it shall start promptly.
2. With regard to planned regulatory acts at central level, regulatory exchanges may take place at any stage of their preparation<sup>15</sup>. Exchanges may continue until the adoption of the regulatory act.
3. Regulatory exchanges shall not prejudice the right to regulate in a timely manner, particularly in cases of urgency or in accordance with deadlines under domestic law. Nothing in this Chapter obliges a Party to suspend or delay steps foreseen under its domestic regulatory procedure.

Article 11 – Promoting regulatory compatibility

1. This Article shall apply to areas of regulation where mutual benefits can be realised without compromising the achievement of legitimate public policy objectives such as those covered in Article 1.
2. When a regulatory exchange has been initiated pursuant to Article 9 with regard to a planned or existing regulatory act at central level, a Party may propose to the other Party a joint examination of possible means to promote regulatory compatibility, including through the following methods:
  - a) Mutual recognition of equivalence of regulatory acts, in full or in part, based on evidence that the relevant regulatory acts achieve equivalent outcomes as regards the fulfilment of the public policy goals pursued by both Parties;
  - b) Harmonisation of regulatory acts, or of their essential elements, through:
    - i. Application of existing international instruments or, if relevant instruments do not exist, cooperation between the Parties to promote the development of a new international instrument;
    - ii. Approximation of rules and procedures on a bilateral basis or
  - c) Simplification of regulatory acts in line with shared legal or administrative principles and guidelines.
3. A proposal under paragraph 1 shall be duly substantiated, including as regards the choice of the method. The Party receiving a proposal for a joint examination shall <sup>15</sup> For greater certainty, a dialogue may take place after the regulating Party has announced, through the publication of the list envisaged in Article 5.1, its intention to regulate, and: (a) in the case of the US, before the publication of a draft for consultation or (b) in the case of the EU, before the adoption of a Commission proposal. This note is not applicable to the proposed regulatory acts referred to in Article 9.2.

4. In addition to regulatory exchanges pursuant to Article 9, the Parties agree to cooperate, in areas of common interest, with respect to pre-normative research, and to exchange scientific and technical information relevant for this purpose.<sup>16</sup>

[Placeholder: Article 12 –Exchanges on regulatory acts at non-central level

The EU intends to table specific proposals for exchanges on planned or existing regulatory acts of US States and of the central national authorities of EU Member States on a reciprocal basis, in areas where such acts have or are likely to have a significant impact on trade and investment between the EU and the US. This should be subject to appropriate modalities, including on the involvement of the regulators and competent authorities responsible for the regulatory acts.]

Article 13 – Promoting International Regulatory Cooperation

1. The Parties agree to co-operate between themselves, and with third countries, with a view to strengthening, developing and promoting the implementation of international instruments inter alia by presenting joint initiatives, proposals and approaches in international bodies or fora, especially in areas where regulatory exchanges have been initiated or concluded pursuant to this Chapter and in areas covered by [specific or sectoral provisions – to be identified] of this Agreement.
2. The Parties reaffirm their intention to implement within their respective domestic systems those international instruments they have contributed to, as provided for in those international instruments

In the domain of financial services the functions as set out under in paragraph 2 shall be performed by the [Joint EU/US Financial Regulatory Forum (FRF)], which shall ensure appropriate information to the RCB. Any decisions concerning financial services should be taken by the competent authorities acting within the framework of the FRF.
4. The RCB may create sectoral working groups [as defined in annex x] and delegate certain tasks to them or to such other working groups that may be set up by the Joint Ministerial body.

consumers, trade unions, environmental groups and other relevant public interest associations [to be agreed in more detail in the Rules of Procedures of the RCB, see Article 15 par. 2]. Participation of stakeholders shall not be conditional on them being directly affected by the items on the agenda of each meeting.

3. Each Party shall provide for means to allow stakeholders to submit their general views and observations or to present to the RCB concrete suggestions for further regulatory co-operation between the Parties. Any concrete suggestion received from stakeholders by one Party shall be referred to the other Party and shall be given careful consideration by the relevant sectoral working group that shall present recommendations to the RCB.
